Philadelphia is blessed with many sites of historic importance. In fact, there are more than 30 sites that can easily be visited by just following the Constitutional Walking Tour as described in detailed at:

<https://www.theconstitutional.com/tours/self-guided-tours>

The on-site map is interactive and provides detailed descriptions of each site including a link to their respective web site such as that shown for the Constitution Center its starting point.

01 National Constitution Center

The National Constitution Center, located on Philadelphia's Independence Mall, is the first museum in the world devoted to dramatically telling the story of The United States Constitution from Revolutionary times to the present through more than 100 interactive and multimedia exhibits, film, photographs, text, sculpture and artifacts. Be sure to walk through Signers' Hall with its life-size statues including Benjamin Franklin and George Washington. Watch Freedom Rising which brings to life the historical context of The Constitution and its impact on our lives today. Take the Presidential Oath-of-Office and vote for your favorite President of all-time.

The trail is easy to follow and since it is self-guided you can decide which sites you are most interested in. It is also important to note that there are many other sites labeled A through M that are just a few steps off the tour route that may want to consider visiting as well. We hope you enjoy your walking journey through America's most historic square mile
